

LEGAL DELIVERIES

You work for a firm that deals in shipping documents regularly; you need Just -N- Time Couriers we specialize in shipping legal documents. There are many different steps that Just -N- Time Couriers might take to provide security for your legal documents. One of the steps we take that makes the difference is one courier takes possession of the documents and doesn't let them out of their site, eliminating the chance of the documents being misplaced or put into improper hands. If the documents are to be signed and returned, our couriers can also serve as a witness to the signing of the documents and do a quick turnaround. Remember that the fewer hands that touch your documents, the safer they will always be. This becomes even more important when the documents you are sending are confidential.
